Huge Showroom—Ample parking

At Always Invited Event Rentals, we have combined the most essential items into packages, all without expecting our clients to be bound by the constraints of having to take only what is offered.

While we know not everyone has the same taste, clients do like the simplicity that the packages offer. Although the packages are simple they do not lack variety.

All of our packages will give you the option to choose your plate style, cutlery design, glass size, and linen colors.

We feel that you are unique, our packages are completely customizable and will reflect your own personal style.

We have also done the calculations that will sit guests comfortably.

At the round tables you can squeeze in another two more settings, but we recommend not doing that. We invite you to our showroom to view what the seating would actually look like and your decision will be an informed one.

No need to upgrade, rest assured all of our pieces are top quality china and the highest grade of 18/10 stainless steel.

Linen is not catering quality and drops to the floor.

Tables are the new industry standard, lightweight durable resin.

No one can resist great discounts and these packages deliver that and more.

Chafing Dish Instructions

Always make sure that the chafer has adequate water to prevent burning and equipment damage.

Chafers should not be used for cooking food, they are meant to keep food hot or warm. For best results, heat your food in an oven and use the chafer to keep food warm.

Getting Started

To start assemble the chafer, 1. begin with the frame. If the frame has multiple pieces, ensure that all parts are put together properly and the unit is stable & level.

2. Insert the water pan into the frame, the water pan will have an inset "lip" around the rim.

3. After assembling the chafer, fill the water pan with about $\frac{3}{4}$ " to $1\frac{1}{2}$ " of water.

4. Insert the food pan(s). For proper heating, the gaps around the lip of the water pan should be completely covered. For example one chafer should have one full pan or two half pans. If a chafer only one half pan and the other half of the chafer is uncovered, the water will evaporate out of the water pan and can lead to improper heating and/or soggy food.

5. Once the food is set in the chafers, pry the lid off of the sterno and use a match to light. Check the label of the sterno to see approximately how long they will burn for. Place the sterno under the water pan and close the lid.

6. If your chafers are outside, wrap aluminum around at least three of the sides to block the wind.

Important / Caution

Do not leave an open flame unattended.

Do not use anything but sterno type fuel in the burner.

Never use chafers without water in the water pan.

Do not put unit on a hot stove or an open flame.

Open the lid carefully so that rising steam does not burn your face or hands.

Maintaining Chafers While in Use

- Occasionally stir the food to make sure the bottom doesn't burn and even heating.
- When it comes time to add more sterno, the old burners may be hot so use tongs to take them out.
- Typically sterno will burn $1\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 hours, slightly faster if they are outside.
- Use an oven mitt to tilt/lift up one side of the chafer, if you hear a sizzle, add water to the water pan.
- The lid should remain on the chafer while the food is not being served.
- If you think the food is getting too hot, use only one sterno.

Seating at tables is something that should be well thought out. If you are having a sit down dinner then you should have enough chairs at the table to accommodate.

There is limited amount of space and we suggest allowing guest some elbow room.

We have also done the calculations that will sit guests comfortably.
